

CheckPoint 360

People quit people – not companies. A bad manager negatively affects attitudes, productivity and turnover. Good managers provide direction, build trust and cultivate their employees' talents to achieve results.

How can you help your managers enhance their skills and get the best out of their employees? A powerful professional management development tool, the Profiles CheckPoint 360° Feedback System[™] provides the basis for planning and executing a program for professional growth for each manager.

The CheckPoint 360°[™] provides managers and leaders with an opportunity to receive an evaluation of their job performance from the people around them – their boss, their peers and the people whose work they supervise. Results are compiled into thorough and concise reports for managers to see how their job performance is evaluated by the full circle of people who observe it. From this feedback, managers can positively identify their strengths and pinpoint the areas of their job performance that could be improved.

The Checkpoint 360°[™] positively impacts an individual's growth and the organization's success.
